

A collaborative partnership between youth and adults creating a community where all young people thrive

Livingston Robotics Club Update

Team Landroids' next FIRST LEGO League (FLL) exhibition will take place this Saturday, February 28, 2009 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Sovereign Bank Arena in Trenton, NJ.

Each year, the State Champion's Award winner of the FLL and the FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) are invited to hold an exhibition at the FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC), as well to be represented with their State Champion's Award trophies in front of FIRST executives, corporate sponsors, and NJ State Assemblymen.

The 2009 FRC tournament is a 3 day high school level event. It will be held from Thursday, February 26 to Saturday, February 28, 2009. The finale will be held on Saturday, February 28th. Approximately 63 high school robotics teams from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and as far away as Florida and Canada, are expected to compete in this year's Lunacy Challenge. These high school students have 6 weeks to design a robot to capture and deliver moon rocks on a low friction surface, simulating the low gravity condition on the moon. The winners will move on to the World Festival competition in Atlanta, GA. Many corporate scouts and college recruiters will be at this year's FRC event looking for bright and talented young participants.

The annual NJ FRC championship event is a great opportunity to see all three FIRST robotics divisions (FLL, FTC, FRC) in one day. This event is free and open to public. Everyone is invited to come and join in the festivities! Pictures of Landroids at the 2008 FRC tournament are posted here.
